Charging port

Connect your remote to the USB charging cable and connect to either:
• the USB port on the back of your TV
• a wall outlet using a standard USB adaptor (like your phone charger)
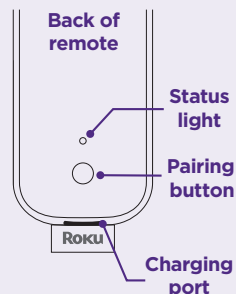

The status light will stop blinking once your remote is finished charging. You'll see a message on your TV when it's time to charge again.

Note: To charge your remote while your TV is off, enable "Fast TV start" in the Power settings menu.
