NFM at a Glance

Brief overview of the company

NFM is more than a store. We're in the business of improving people's lifestyles. Our company was founded in 1937 and joined Berkshire Hathaway in 1983 when NFM founder, Rose Blumkin, and Warren Buffett made a deal on a handshake.

Over the last 85+ years in business we've offered big selection, big savings and big ideas, that empower customers to create the home of their dreams (without breaking the bank). We think of our customers as family, so we strive to give them the best experience every step of the way.

Our stores include everything needed to make a house into a home. Furniture and fixtures for every room, indoors and out. Flooring, including carpet, hard surface, and area rugs. Popular and luxury large appliances that tackle just about every task in the home and small appliances for everything else. Our array of electronics includes everything from computers and video games to TVs and home audio equipment. Plus, we stock health and fitness equipment to help customers find their fit wherever they like to exercise.

We're so much more than just furniture. We're your partner for every project to improve your lifestyle. Choose a category and let our team of experts help you turn your house into your dream home.
